

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SENSEI ENTERPRISES ACQUIRES VADER

March 1, 2009, Fairfax, Virginia | Effective today, Sensei Enterprises, Inc., a computer forensics and information technology firm in Fairfax, Virginia, has acquired VADER, the Virginia Attorneys' Divorce Evidence Resource. VADER is the premier software resource for family law attorneys in Virginia.

VADER) is an extensive compendium of automatically calculating workbooks, including Support and Support-related worksheets, Equitable Distribution workbooks and Case Tracking worksheets. It is designed to help an attorney prepare a divorce case in Virginia by making it easier for him or her to calculate the increasingly complex financial requirements of a divorce under Virginia law, and to generate attractive, informative documents to present to others.

The original developers of VADER, Dick and Nancy Byrd, will continue to assist Sensei in the development of the product, with the assistance of noted family law practitioner Dan Gray of Cooper Ginsberg Gray and Sensei's programmers.

A 2009 version of VADER is expected sometime this summer.
